In order to consider the approximate total cost of your complete program abroad, consider the cost of the following individual items. You should compare the total with the amount you are spending on your current education and living expenses:

Program Fees $ _____

The program fees listed on our website www.australearn.org/fees are for a specific intake which is indicated on the page. Be sure to consider that program fees can change for future intakes.

Housing $ _____

The housing fees listed online are approximates, as actual fees vary based on the housing that you select.

Meals $ _____

Where the housing without meals option is selected, the meal expense will vary depending on your study abroad location, your dietary preferences and needs. You should consider budgeting between $300 - $400 per month. Where housing with meals is an option, the fee will be $300-400 more per month than the listed housing fee to account for the meal plan.

Flight $ _____

Student Visa $ _____

Utilities $ _____

Utilities are generally included in the listed housing fees. However, where utilities are an additional cost, fees for utilities range from $70 - $100 per month.
